

Mr. Clarence Edward Dixson

August 6, 1939 - September 16, 2015

A gentle sympathetic friend and guide...the heavenly angel of death visited Clarence Edward Dixson on Wednesday morning, September 16, 2015, with an invitation to "Come on up a little higher" and inherit his crown.

His parents, Georgia Dixson and Lofair Dixson, preceded him in death. He was born in Jackson, Tennessee, on August 6, 1939. He was a proud graduate of Merry High School and completed his Bachelor's Degree at Lane College. As gentleman and a scholar, Clarence was a well-known businessman in his community.

He was honest, trustworthy, and serious-minded about all of his involvements with his family, friends, and above all within the circle of his business. He was a gentle giant to his wife and family and will be sorely missed. He was a loving, devoted caring husband, father and lovingly known as "Papa" by his two grandchildren. He will long be cherished and remembered for his kindness and for making a difference in the lives of others.

Our hearts may be heavy today as we grieve what we consider to be the untimely death of Clarence Edward Dixson , but he is rejoicing because he lived his life in such a manner that he was able to answer his summons, lie down to pleasant dreams, and awake in the loving arms of God.

The precious memories of Clarence will always be cherished by his devoted and caring wife Dolores: his loving son, Ranaldo (Terrie); grandchildren: Joshua & Zachary Wilkes: brothers: Jimmie Dixson, Willie (Shirley) Poston, sisters-in-law, Gertrude Perine, Kay Winters and countless relatives and friends.

“ To the Family of Mr. Clarence Dixson, I offer my heart felt condolences. I met Mr. Dixson 3 years ago and we became quick friends. Mr. Dixson always had a kind word, a contagious laughter and a caring spirit. Mr. Dixson once said that I would be offering him curb side service, he was right about that and I would do it all over again. I'm going to miss the Gentle Gaint. My prayer is that the family find comfort in one another. Find comfort in memories because they live forever.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Mr Dixson in 1989 when I started working for Soft Sheen Products, a Chicago based manufacturing company. He was the Broker Representative for the Mid-South Region providing products to all beauty supply stores. I was a Professional Merchandiser and it was my responsibility to pull the products to consumers. We worked many beauty shows, salon seminars, and in-store promotions. The beauty industry was Mr Dixson's passion. The photo attached are the Dixson's attending one of those fabulous hair shows! He will be greatly missed!

“ My Mom always called Uncle Clarence and all the rest of the the Dixson men, her "baby brothers". I would laugh at that each time I would see their stature. She was so proud of all her brothers and wanted her children to know you better. The number of miles did not permit visits as often as we would have liked, but the times we had together will always be in my heart. Rest now, Dear Uncle Clarence. The man I got to know, I truly love now and forever! Andrea (Ann) Cooper
