“ The world lost a very understanding and faithful soul with this passing, but this loss is heaven's gain. James was a wonderful co-worker for many years and more than that he was a true friend. The most consoling thought to me at this time and hopefully to the family and other friends and co-workers is that James was a Christian and that his earthly struggles are over and his eternal rewards have begun. I pray God's blessings and comfort be upon you all.
