“ They broke the mold when they made Joe!! Joe was surely one of a kind. I had the honor of working with Joe for 10 years. He was such a joy some of us girls when he lived on Tinkerhill rd would call him our little P.I. Because Joe didn't miss out on much, and don't even think about getting him excited because it would take him a minute to slow down with his words. I have so many great memories of Joe. I know we're not supposed to have favorites but I'm sorry he was one of mine. One of my coworkers and great Friend. She would tell me stop babying him. You always take up for him and I did. You are one of God's angels now. You rest in peace now my little buddy. You're no longer in pain and I'll see you on the other side, my friend you have no choice but to behave yourself now because you're with God. I love you, gone, but will never be forgotten.

Awe, Robyn this was true and beautiful. I loved Joe and his roommates, they became part of your family. Gone but never forgotten. We coined the term "ear hustling", because would be all in your conversations. He would tell your business and half of it was incorrect. laughing out loud. "My little guy". Rest easy Joe!!
