

Ms. Kimberly Shannon Morris

December 5, 1971 - December 7, 2020

Kimberly Shannon Morris was born December 5, 1971, in Jackson, Madison County, Tennessee, to proud parents Jimmie Lee Morris, Sr. and Phillis Lean Hegmon Morris. Kim, as she was fondly called by family and friends, quickly earned a reputation as being intelligent and inquisitive. These qualities characterized all areas of Kim's life.

Kimberly matriculated through the Jackson Madison County School system, attending Parkview Elementary School and Jackson Junior High School. In 1990, Kimberly was an honors graduate of Jackson Central Merry High School. She then attended the University of Memphis where she graduated Magna Cum Laude in 1994. In 2005, she earned a Master's degree from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

Kim was deeply compassionate. It was compassion that led Kim into a profession of service to others. She worked as a social worker, counselor, and educator. At the time of her death, Kim was employed in the Department of Counseling and Disability Support Services at Lane College. This was an especially appropriate job for Kim as it allowed her to use her talents to serve at an educational institution that had such a rich history in her family and in Jackson.

Kim was a lifelong member of the Tabernacle of David the House of Israel where she was an enthusiastic member of the church choir.

Kim channeled her creative energies into the art of poetry and showcased at many cultural events. She shared and developed her poetry skills with the Griots Collective of West Tennessee--a literary arts organization. She was especially proud to have published some of her poems in the literary journal Black Magnolias in 2009.

Whether she was reciting poetry or belting out a beautiful rendition of a song, the power of Kim's voice was undeniable. Her voice soothed souls, made people smile, and offered humor and hope. She was the life of the party at family gatherings. Her laughter was infectious. Her love was boundless.

Kim's surviving relatives include her father, Jimmie Sr., and mother Phillis Lean. Brothers Jimmie, Jr. (Rhonda), and Clifford (Inyang); nieces Maya Morris and Jordyn Morris; and nephews Myles Morris, Clifford Morris, Jr., and Josiah Morris. Kim's surviving relatives include a host of other loving aunts, uncles, and cousins who remain comforted by the memories of such a wonderful woman.

Kim's influence was far-reaching, and in addition to her family, she leaves numerous close friends, classmates, and colleagues who will forever cherish her memory. A special outpouring of love goes out to all the students whom Kim served.

Today and always, we celebrate the wonderful legacy of love and light that Kim shared throughout her life. We recall the many moments that her smile, her voice, and her kind words lifted us and others. And finally, we remain the thankful beneficiaries of the unlimited generosity bestowed on us by Kimberly Shannon Morris.

“ Ms. Morris was a beautiful young lady in and out. Her smile would light up the room when she smiled. Her smile was infectious because when she smiled you smiled. She will truly be missed by all who knew her. Lane College has lost a beautiful soul, but Heaven has gained an angel. Rest in Heaven Sweet Soul.

“ Our Lord only takes the best. Kim exemplified the strong one-minded independent believer that really trusted God to carry her through all her goals. And she was a high achiever. In 2005 while Kim was working on her Masters Degree she completed my Not For Profit Class for "Personal Financial Literacy", (MoneySmart) given through the Federal Reserve Bank. We became friends because we shared similar strong minds. She praised me, and I praised her. I will miss her because I wanted her to work closer with me on some future projects and she told me she wanted to also. I believe her giving spirit has now placed her in the presence of greatness, working side by side with our Lord. Until we meet again sweet Kim. (Promise Seed CDC, Inc)

“ My deepest condolences to the Morris and Hegmon families on your loss. To her parents, I know you are so proud of the woman that you called daughter. She accomplished many goals in her short 49 years of life. To her brothers, Clifford and Jimmy, there is nothing like a big sister. Hold on to memories that you have of her. You all are in my thoughts as you navigate through this difficult time. It just seems so unreal. Kim was such a sweet, dependable, talented, smart, funny, caring and genuine person. She had a heart of gold and beautiful voice that was one of a kind. Poetry was her forte and no one could write or recite it like she could. Kim was my "sista" as she would say and I will miss her dearly.

“ Kimberly Shannon Morris, my very first friend, the first person I learned to share with, the very first person I had to learn how to apologize to when I was wrong. We were supposed to grow old together. I am so heartbroken and so sad. Although I am grieving, it is not without hope. To be absent from the body, is to be present with the Lord. My friend is now at peace, free from the cares and troubles of this world. I miss her smile, her voice already. Thank you Lord for sharing Kim with us for 49 years. Continued prayers for her parents, brothers, family, many friends, classmates, and all who loved and miss her dearly!

“ This giant among women, adopted my isolated, medically challenged daughter during her teenage years and mentored her for SEVEN years! Not seven minutes, not seven weeks, but for seven years! She nourished and fed her positivity which grew in her writing. We often told her how important she was to us, but not nearly enough times. We ache at her passing, but we are forever lifted by her brilliance, empathy, support. Kimberly remains one of a kind and is FOREVER in our hearts!
