

Mr. Robert Earl Hendrix

November 23, 1952 - February 5, 2014

Robert Earl Hendrix fought the good fight of faith until the end as he proclaimed that Jesus was his Lord and Savior. On February 05, 2014 he left for his heavenly home. He was preceded in death by his mother Minnie Brown, his father Andy Hendrix and his sister Willie Mae Jelks.

“Earl” as so many of his family and friends ” called him was a unique man He would always send his family on food hunts to satisfy his taste buds such as possum sardines, fruit cake in a tin, pumpkin pie in the summer time and pickle loaf.

Let him tell it he tried everything even alligator and could recall different points in life from his many adventures. His family was going to solicit the food network so that he could be the next at the could be the next food network star with his eccentric tastewith his eccentric taste buds.

Our love for Robert Earl kept us trying Earl kept us trying to fulfill these challenges and also to prove to him we could find what he wanted (we never did)! Not only was he a food connoisseur, but he was also a counselor all you had a counselor all you had to do was “Ask Earl?” and whatever the conversation was about he had either experienced it, seen it on TV, or knew someone who had been through it, or knew someone who had been through the same thing.

Social media gave Earl another avenue of communication he became a Facebooker. Earl was introduced to the world, ““The Man that knew Too much! He could type faster than we could and often told us we were slow in our response when instant messaging. He loved boxing, wrestling, TBN, and soap operas he was not too happy they took General Hospital off the air.

Robert Earl was a mechanic in the National Guard where he served for 17 years. Honorably Discharged as a Sergeant. In the military he received numerous service awards and honorable mentions. Farming was his trade which he had done all his life until his accident.

He leaves to cherish his memory and legacy, his loving wife of 31 years Bernice Hendrix, two sons; Steve (Evonne) Bonds, Keith (Lachesha) Hendrix, Steve (Evonne) Bonds, Keith (Lachesha) Hendrix, one step-daughter Barbara Hill, five step sons; Pastor Barry Cole, Lloyd Frank Bonds, Vincent Bonds, Timothy Bonds, and Darrell bonds, one brother; Clyde Midget and one sister: Betty Walker.
